Customized, "Real World" Workforce Solutions to Increase Service Quality and Streamline Operations!

About Human Solutions...

Your organization exists to assist people re-entering the workforce. Whether you're a government agency, nonprofit, or other national or local workforce-related organization, you are all about workforce development.

Human Solutions understands that. We get it. Just as you exist to help workers re-enter the working world, we exist to assist you, and those employers who turn to you for qualified job candidates and information on hiring practices, disability law, and other workforce-related issues.

Drawing on years of expertise in the workforce development industry, our team of professionals is dedicated to developing hands-on, interactive training programs that are uniquely tailored for your specific professional development needs. Our practical, "real world" approach and knowledge of disability-related issues distinguishes Human Solutions from other trainers in the field. We strive to provide high-quality training and consulting services that not only meet regulatory requirements, but enhance the quality of service you provide to your clients.

What Others Are Saying...

As a City of Los Angeles program manager, I had the opportunity to work with Lisa Jordan and Human Solutions, LLC for over 11 years. Together, we have developed and implemented programs for the City's most vulnerable populations including persons with disabilities, the homeless and ex-offenders. Lisa was instrumental in designing nationally recognized "best practices" and has trained over 2,500 staff in our Workforce Development system.

Susan Quigley, Retired, City of Los Angeles - Economic & Workforce Development Department

I completed the Job Development Boot Camp last year with Christina and Lisa, and I immediately began to integrate what I learned into our organization. It has completely changed the way I serve my clients. The tools and skills covered in the Boot Camp have helped us reach more clients and provide them with the highest level of quality service. The Job Development Boot Camp was really the BEST training I have taken to prepare me for my job in terms of employment support to clients. And, I think more staff need to take it.

Heather Miller, Easter Seals Nebraska

Lisa Jordan has made an impressive impact on our agencies and the services we provide. Through her workshops, Lisa created a feeling of value and ownership with the staff in providing the best possible services. Participants leave the workshop and are motivated to incorporate what is learned into the daily routine of business. Thank you, Lisa, for all you do.
